

SimPRENA

Simulation based training to promote ability in dealing with aggression and violence in the healthcare setting

December 2023 to December 2025

A project that aims to prepare healthcare students and professionals to deal with violence in medical settings through simulation based training.

Why?

The SimPRENA project addresses the critical need to prepare nursing and paramedic students for the challenges of violence in healthcare environments.

What are the Aims

SimPRENA aims to boost the self-confidence of nursing and paramedic students through immersive simulation scenarios with real actors.

How?

SimPRENA develops tailored simulation scenarios and training materials accessible via an e-learning platform.

Train-the-trainer courses empower educators, while innovative teaching methods enhance student engagement.
